

New Graduate

Damilola Ogunbiyi

Part-time Barista

23

Regina, SK

Damilola is a fresh graduate from the Univeristy of Regina's Nursing Program. She also has a minor in psychology. She is hopeful and excited to break out into the healthcare industry

"I want to get an entry level position in the Healthcare industry"

"I'd also like opportunities to use my psychology knowledge and positively affect patients mental health"

1. Access to a wide range of job listings across various industries and sectors.
2. User-friendly interface for easy navigation and application process.
3. Resources for resume writing, interview preparation, and career development.

1. Limited job opportunities that match skills and qualifications.
2. Lack of response or feedback from employers after applying for positions.
3. Difficulty in standing out among other job applicants.

1. Secure a fulfilling job in the desired industry or field.
2. Enhance professional skills and qualifications through training or certifications.
3. Find opportunities for career advancement and growth.

1. Search and apply for relevant job openings using the job hunting platform.
2. Customize resumes and cover letters to match job requirements.
3. Network with industry professionals and attend job fairs or networking events.